I am an amateur radio operator Extra Class and I took the time to learn and I use morse code on a daily basis. With that I see no reason to continue testing amateur radio operators for access to bandwidth below 30 mhz. I fully support the NCVEC in this process.